IMAGINATION! . . . Pegasus . . . the roar of the ocean in a cast-up sea shell . . . flying saucers . . . blue . . . Mona Lisa! Do sound . . . motion . . . color . . . beauty . . . stimulate your Imagination? Is not this Imagination the greatest faculty man possesses? . . . employs? How this great faculty affects our lives! YESTERDAY . . . Shakespeare . . . Rembrandt . . . Beethoven! Words . . . paintings . . . melodies . . . the unforgettable results of unique Imaginations! TODAY . . . the heavens are a highway for travel, the effect of vision and foresight. And TOMORROW?

Imagination is an experience common to all of us from castles of sand to castles-in-air. Through Imagination man is inspired . . . creates . . . has his vaguest dreams materialize. How are we inspired? Our teachers have provided us with the spark of understanding . . . philosophy . . . wisdom. Not only the faculties of our schools but also our parents and friends are in a sense our teachers. How do we create? During our years of learning we have been fashioning, building goals, castles-in-air, for ourselves in preparation for tomorrow. But our dreams materialize only when we build for them strong foundations here at school. Even for us Imagination cannot be kept inside the mind; it must have an outlet. Football . . . photography . . . MEMORIES '53 . . . painting . . . these activities provide the needed vent for imaginative thinking. Thus the cycle of Imagination is complete . . . inspiration . . . creation . . . materialization. The dreams . . . goals . . . castles-in-air we construct today will form the foundation for our future.

"The man who cannot wonder is but a pair of spectacles behind which there is no eye." (Thomas Carlyle). May MEMORIES '53, a figment of our Imagination, be the eye which enables all of us to see through those spectacles and to remember our years at B.H.S. . . . The Editor

Inspiration

A spark . . . a small flickering flame . . . a brilliant light! Throughout our lives our teachers, whether they be parents . . . friends . . . faculties . . . have been igniting in our minds a spark . . . the spark of Imagination. It has been up to us to kindle this faint glimmer into a blaze of light. As we scribbled our first picture . . . mastered the three "R's" . . . created our first theme . . . a tiny flame emerged. Through our homes . . . churches . . . schools . . . we have been inspired to think for ourselves. We must use this inspiration to kindle a flame vivid . . . brilliant . . . great enough to light up the future.

A. DIXI CROSBY

A. Dixi Crosby, B.H.S.'s well-known English teacher, is a combination of wit and talent. A Dartmouth graduate, he taught in Gilford College, North Carolina as head of the English Department. He left this job for theatrical work, but came to Bloomfield "to get away from the footlights." Mr. Crosby left this high school at the outbreak of World War I and enlisted in the Armed Forces as a buck private. When the war ended, he returned home to resume his teaching career. After Pearl Harbor, he again entered the service, this time as Captain Crosby. During the war years, he trained men in the States and flew with them to battle zones in the South Pacific. He again returned to B.H.S. after V.J. Day. This cultured gentleman is deeply interested in music and poetry and enjoys writing both. He produced "Hamlet" and "Macbeth" at B.H.S. and coached senior plays for twenty-five years. Everyone will miss versatile, humorous Mr. Crosby. Every time that we sing the Alma Mater, we will be reminded of its author, Dixi Crosby. We hope his future will be happy, as he spends his time "writing music and poetry, reading and resting".

"Parting is such sweet sorrow . . ."
- Shakespeare

JEANETTE McLELLAN

Jeanette McLellan, known to everyone in B.H.S. as one of our efficient secretaries in the central office, is a native of New York City. She attended public schools there and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from N. Y. U. and the Master of Arts degree from Columbia University. Miss McLellan was Registrar and Treasurer for a number of years at a private school in New York City. For a year she taught English, Latin, and French at Banner Elk College in North Carolina. Then she came to Bloomfield, where she has been employed for eighteen and one-half years. Outside of school Miss McLellan enjoys musical concerts and lectures, as well as the theater. She likes sports, too, especially basketball and tennis. Although her plans for the future are not definite as yet, Miss McLellan hopes to continue work in the field of education.

SENIOR HOMEROOM TEACHERS

Our homeroom teachers were the first to welcome us in September, 1950, when, as sophomores, we knew not what high school held in store or who our new friends would be. We have become more and more confident until now, as seniors, we are able to carry on the leadership and responsibility that falls on our shoulders. We of the Class of 1953 will be ever grateful for their kindness and help.

Entering the new Annual Office

MEMORIES '53

MEMORIES '53 had its beginnings in the spring of 1952. At this time the Editorial Board had its first meetings to decide a cover, layout, theme, and content of the book. Different staffs were responsible for particular phases of the book. The first one to employ its talents was the Literary Staff, whose members wrote for many long hours in order to complete the seniors' individual write-ups, all of which were typed by the Typing Staff. The Art Staff furnished the art work; the Photography Staff, the pictures. To aid the other staffs, whenever its assistance was needed, was the function of the Auxiliary Staff. These staffs united their efforts toward a common goal, that of producing a successful annual.

The MEMORIES staffs will long remember the many amusing times that occurred in the new annual office. It was first invaded by a crew armed with pails and mops who energetically began to clean and rearrange the room. Later in the year another invasion occurred, the intruders appearing this time at night in the form of mice. Late in the day, after performing laborious tasks and hashing out various problems, our tired editors stumbled blindly along the darkened hallways only to be welcomed by the thought of more homework. These incidents, along with many others, will add to the memories of those who were a part of this yearbook.

Constantly advising and guiding the members of this annual were the three faculty advisers: Miss Brummerstedt, Miss Fischer, and Mr. Willever. Everyone affiliated with MEMORIES '53 extends his heartfelt thanks to them for the encouragement, inspiration, and counsel which they have given.

Materialization

A mighty force are we . . . eager . . .
determined . . . as we strive to attain a common goal. For over twelve years we have been preparing for this purpose. Our education has provided us with a firm foundation of knowledge and imagination; in the future upon this foundation we must begin to erect a substantial structure. In the years ahead, each of us, as individuals, will attempt to utilize to the best of our abilities the materials . . . habits . . .
ideals . . . skills . . . we have obtained in school. To us belongs the future!

SENIOR CLASS REPRESENTATIVES

KATHLEEN HENTZ

We, the girls in the Class of '53, have been most fortunate in having Miss Hentz as our guidance counselor. With her winning personality and keen sense of humor, she has been a friend to every senior girl. Her patience and deep understanding have carried us through many a trying time. Frequently she has arrived at school early and stayed late, helping us with some academic or extra-curricular activity. Because of her tireless aid and unerring judgment, the undertakings of our class have been successful and our three year stay at B.H.S. happy. Years from now when we look back on our high school career, we will have happy memories highlighted by those of our outstanding guidance counselor and class adviser, Miss Hentz. To her, we humbly say, "Thank you."

ROBERT E. MORRIS

A new precedent was formed when Mr. Robert Morris was appointed both boys' guidance counselor and class adviser. He is known to all as our sincere friend and enthusiastic supporter. So often our desires have been realized by his genuine interest and immeasurable, unselfish efforts. Mr. Morris' sound advice has been very influential in our academic and extra-curricular endeavors. There was never an obstacle too large or a problem too trivial which was not surmounted through his down-to-earth and human understanding. His personal attention and frequent encouragement have made our stay in Bloomfield High an experience that we will always cherish. From the bottom of our hearts, we humbly thank you, Mr. Morris, for your unceasing efforts to mold a part of our character.

"Well, Sir, here we are again..."

Opening night of "You Can't Take It With You" found almost all the members of the cast in a dither; that is, all but Grandpa (Dick Busciglio). "Who has number five base?" "Where is the white paint?" and "Anybody have any bobbypins?" were familiar cries in the makeup room. Upstairs in the dressing rooms we heard, "I'm shaking so much that I can't even tie a necktie"; "I'm so nervous"; or "Where's my hat?" Finally, everything was restored to order and Penny (Kay Nelson) and Essie (Joan Pfaff) took their places for the first scene.

The audience hushed and the curtain opened to reveal a homey, lived-in living room. In fact, it was a little too lived-in. Can you imagine snakes, a typewriter, a xylophone, a printing press, and a dart board in your living room? These things alone were enough to put the audience in the right mood. Mr. DePinna's (Bob Levine) appearance caused quite a stir, especially the bald head. Of course, we were all worried as to whether or not Mr. Sycamore's (Jack Stempel) firecrackers would go off. Everyone had lines ready if they didn't! Tony Kirby (Len Anderson) was surely lucky to be able to play opposite two Alices (Pat Jordan and Roxanne McRae). What a love scene! Donald's (Ed Anderson) pickled pig's feet went over with a bang, and I'll bet Mr. Kirby (Pete Fleming) was glad he never had to eat them. Cornflakes are a lot easier to digest!

At the second performance, everyone had just as much stage fright as the night before; however there were no signs of it as the play began. Penny's (Judy Griffith) pajamas made quite a hit during Act I, Scene 2. We can't forget how that happy family life was disrupted first by the internal revenue agent (Ralph Davis) and then by the handsome J-men (Bud Weiss, Alan Swenson, Pete Mamunes, and Bill Rust). When they arrested Ed Carmichael the printer, (John Reilly), Mrs. Kirby's (Mary Fleming) screaming faint came off as scheduled. The gay routine was restored, however, when the Grand Duchess (Irene Gould) and Kolenkhov (Ken Ward) came to visit. The Senior Forum was probably the most outstanding senior assembly this year. At the tryouts for the forum each candidate had to deliver a prepared speech on a controversial issue. Jim Dewsnap was chosen moderator, and Fran Cronin, Sandy Nelson, Pete Fleming, Bob Rubino, and Roxanne McRae were selected to be on the panel. Barry Moore was the alternate and recorder who summarized the details at the end of the discussion. The group, with their advisers, Mr. Kendall and Miss Hynson, chose to discuss the topic "What Should Our Standards Be?" Each panel member prepared a speech on teenage morals, ideas, and conduct. To familiarize themselves with forum procedure, the group attended a radio broadcast of "The Town Meeting of the Air." The members met semi-weekly for discussion and rehearsal. The forum was presented on February 25. The fact that audience participation was so great was proof that this year's Senior Forum was enjoyable and informative.

Bloomfield High Cheerleaders

"Hold that Tiger!"

CHEERLEADERS, TWIRLERS, AND FLAGWAVERS

The cheerleaders are a peppy group of girls who add lots of lift to our football and basketball games and rallies. The twelve girls and their captain meet with Mrs. Seely their adviser once a week to practice cheers. Their enthusiasm helps to drive us on to victory. A majorette, two minorettes, and eighteen twirlers form the twirling squad. They practice their routines four times a week under the direction of Mrs. Seely. The girls provide enjoyable entertainment during the half-time of our football games and at our annual band concert. This trim looking group also does a routine in the pre-game performance. With their bright red and gray flags, the flag-wavers paint a pretty picture on our football field. They also meet with Mrs. Seely to learn tricky routines. All in all, these three groups add much to the spirit of the student body.

THE MARCHING BAND

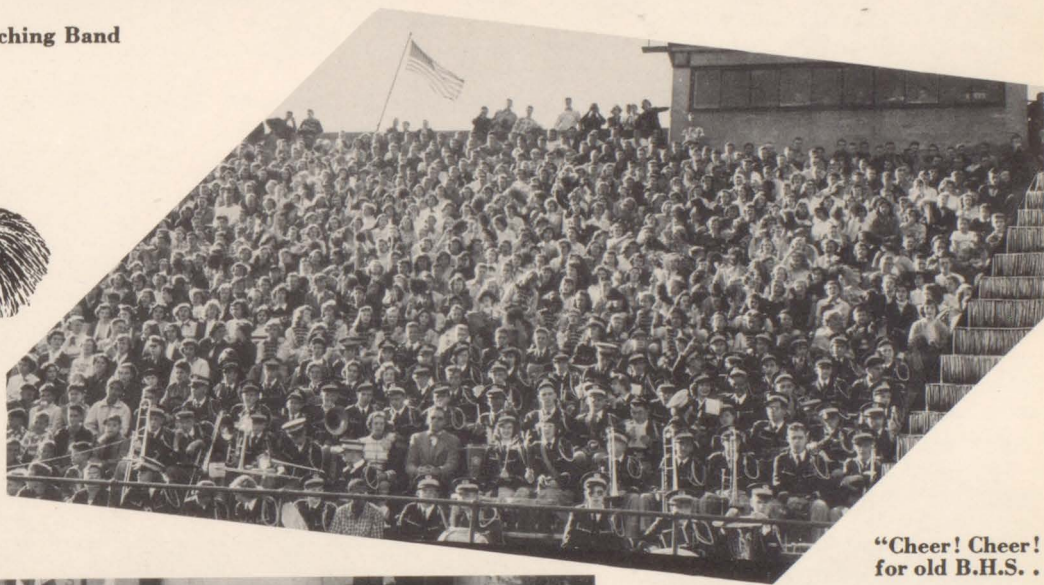

As we take our horns off the bandroom shelf for the last time, we cannot help thinking of the experiences shared with the Band.

A formation committee, composed of band members, suggested and developed the half-time programs used during the football season. The outline of New Jersey's boundaries was condensed into the limits of Foley Field, when the band formed "New Jersey" and took us on a trip of the Garden State. The "Vote" formation stressed the national election; we hummed the strains of "God Bless America" while "G.O.P.", "Dem.", and "Vote" were spelled out. A giant ukulele made its way on to the field one day. The twirlers did the hula while the band rendered "My Little Grass Shack." Thanksgiving Day was another high spot in the band's entertainment, when the twirlers strutted to choruses of "Parade of the Wooden Soldiers", "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" and "Jingle Bells".

When football season is over, the band bears down still harder and commences work on rallies and parades. It also plays for exchange concerts and various service projects. The faculty adviser to the Band is Mr. Raymond Hartman. He has worked untiringly to produce one of the finest musical groups in the state.

The 1952 Bloomfield High football campaign was a successful one by way of the won-lost record. The Bengals did not defeat their traditional rival, Montclair, but they did overcome six of their nine opponents. The other losses were inflicted by Belleville and Kearny.

Warren Lowans, Bloomfield's extremely popular and capable gridiron coach, was called back into the Naval Air Force shortly after the conclusion of the season. In his two years at B.H.S., Coach Lowans compiled an enviable record of thirteen triumphs and only five setbacks. An even better Bengal squad is looming for 1953, the year the coach was building for.

The Red and Grey inaugurated the campaign on a high note with a 37-12 drubbing of Jersey City. A potent Belleville eleven followed with a 19-7 victory over the Bengals. Lowans' crew bounced right back as they ripped Weequahic and Newark Central on successive Saturdays by scores of 20-7 and 24-0 respectively. Kearny then jarred B.H.S. to a tune of 15-13, although the Bengals almost overcame a 15-0 third quarter deficit with a valiant last ditch rally; both Bengal touchdowns were tallied in the final six minutes, and a disputed intercepted pass cost Bloomfield the game in the waning seconds of the contest. Irvington and Nutley succumbed 12-0 and 19-7 before the Bengals bowed to Montclair on Thanksgiving Day. The count was knotted at 7-7 midway through the second quarter before a few unlucky breaks broke the dam. After Montclair had racked up a 23-7 bulge at intermission, there was a natural sinking in the ranks of the Bengals.

The 1952 season produced a quantity of individual stars. Joe Rosania, a shifty scatback, received All-County honors in his final year at Bloomfield High. Joe is a fine athlete in virtually every sport. He participated in varsity football, basketball, and baseball. Joe also excels in golf, and could have run the short dash in track if B.H.S. rules had permitted a baseball player to be on the track squad at the same time. Two other seniors, Dave Brower and Joe Reach, teamed up as a pair of tackles seldom equalled in Essex County gridiron circles. Both of these boys played on offense and defense. Brower, a 210-pounder, especially rates more than passing notice. He received honorable mention on the All-County eleven. Few opponents ran around Reach's position at end in Lowans' five-man defense line. Captain Bill Chesney headed a group of three senior ends: Frank Domenick, a vastly improved player, and Don Stagg who rounded out the group. A trio of seniors operated at the center slot: Student Council President Bill Rust, Vice-President Johnny Glomb and Sandy Stivali. Bill Hardt, mammoth tackle, saw action on defense, as did Carl Ziegler, a stocky bone-crushing tackler.

Bloomfield might have fared a lot better in the Montclair tilt had Bob Rubino, a slick-faking quarterback, been able to play. Another casualty was fullback Tom Panico. He was injured early in the campaign and never fully recovered until the close of the season.

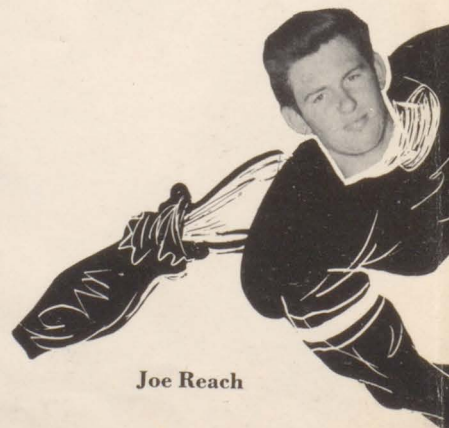

The 1952 edition of B.H.S.'s Bengals certainly added spark and color to our senior year.

A crucial play!

Coach Lowans and the '52 Squad

As our tribute to Coach Warren Lowans who has been recalled to duty in the Armed Forces, we are printing a theme written by a sophomore boy who played football with this year's squad. This theme expresses the sentiments of all of us here at B.H.S.

COACH LOWANS

I admire Coach Lowans for his coaching ability, his determination to win, and for all the things that make him a great coach and a real friend. He came to Bloomfield a few years ago with a lot of experience behind him. He played college and Navy pre-flight ball before he actually started flying. By the time he had taken over as head football coach here, he had made friends and swapped knowledge with many famous college coaches and players. Another thing about the Coach is that he knows his players, their ability, and their determination to win; he takes their interests, their welfare to heart, but he still hardens a player into a football frame of mind, and doesn't baby him. Not just the team, but the whole school will miss Warren Lowans, and we hope he will soon be back to coach great Bengal teams.

BASKETBALL

The Bloomfield High School varsity basketball team finished the 1952-53 season with an 11 and 5 record. The team played to capacity crowds, the largest in Essex County. Bob Nardone, 6'3" center, was Bloomfield's high man, scoring well over 200 points. Herbie Miller, Tony Mack and Joe Rosania each scored over 100 points. Ron Wertman, Don Connell, Chuck Morrell, Bob McCabe and Jim Mooney also helped the Bengals to another great year on the court.

Undoubtedly, the Cellamen's greatest victory was over Central, Newark City League Champion. Although the Montclair game was a loss, the team played with never-ending spirit and courage. As a climax to the season, the Bengals were seated third in the Essex County Tournament.

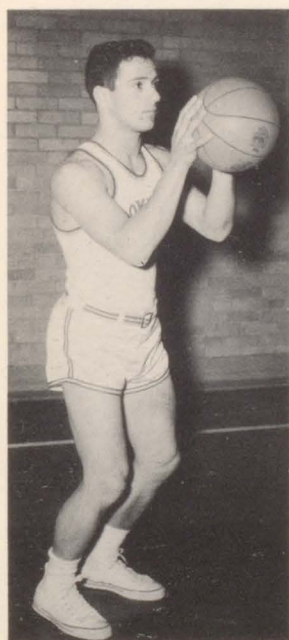

During the regular season the team was victorious over Kearny, Columbia, the Alumni, Clifford J. Scott, Irvington, Belleville, Morristown, Central Paterson, Central Newark, East Orange, and Nutley. Close tilts were lost to West Orange, Orange, Barringer, Montclair, and Ridgewood.

Again this year, as he has done repeatedly in the past, Coach Cella turned out an outstanding team, prodded on by school enthusiasm.

BASEBALL

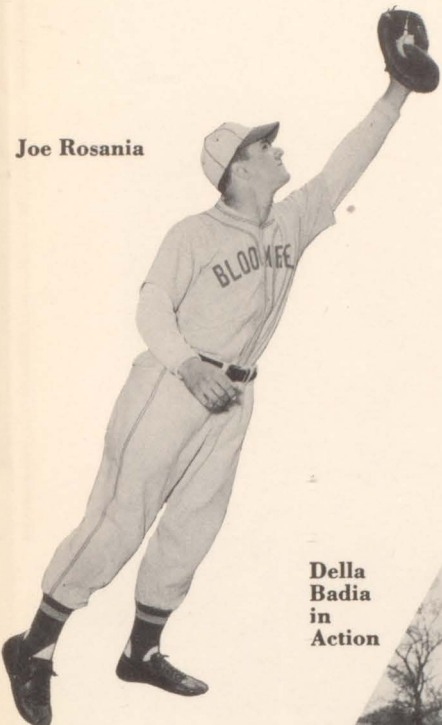

Under the leadership of Coach George Cella, Bloomfield High's 1952 baseball team won the Essex County Baseball Tournament, and, therefore, became co-champions of Group 4, Section 2, with Nutley, whom the Bengals defeated in the final game of the tourney.

Normally, the winner of the tournament automatically becomes champion, but when Bloomfield players were polled preceeding the Nutley contest as to whether they wished a co-championship with Nutley, or whether they wanted the winner of the game between the two teams to take all the marbles, they were in favor of the duel championship.

The Bengals were spearheaded by the brilliant pitching of Bob Adubato, an All-State selection, who signed a contract with the Boston Red Sox following his graduation. Ron Radcliffe looked good in his infrequent appearances on the mound. He will be called upon to do much of the hurling for this year's squad.

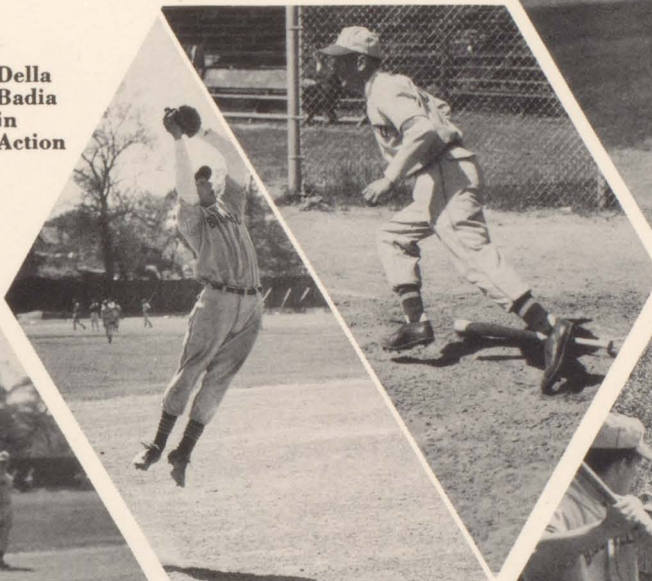

Tom Panico, a substitute last year, should inherit the catcher's slot. Other seniors returning from the 1952 champs include Joe Rosania, right-fielder; Joe Della Badia and Don Stagg, who will battle it out for the shortstop post; Tony Mack, third baseman; and Frank Ricciardi, second baseman.

Unfortunately, because of financial difficulties, the Bloomfield High School A.A. was not able to underwrite the cost of the fencing squad; however, the team did travel to West Point at their own expense to have a meet with the Army plebes. Members of the squad include Richard Busciglio, Captain; Martin VanRiper; Ray Miller; Faust LaScala; George Ottley; Robert Ross; and Art Klos. The coach of this team is Mr. Vincent Surdi.

TENNIS

Tennis is another popular springtime sport at Bloomfield High. Although the team has not brought home any championships in recent years, the boys on the squad take the game seriously and always make a good showing. Mr. Cabot Kendall, the coach of the netmen, works vigorously improving the newcomers and polishing the veterans. Senior Ron Wertman, a letterman from the 1952 crew, returns to lead this year's netsters.

TRACK

Bloomfield ended the 1952 track season with a 3 and 3 record in dual meet competition. The Bengals were victorious over Belleville, Nutley, and Newark Academy; they lost to Clifton, Columbia and West Side. Coach Lowans' squad also placed second in a quadrangular meet and third in a triangular meet.

Bloomfield showed its greatest strength in the field events. Tom Powell established a new Bloomfield High School shot put record by tossing the twelve pound sphere 49'10". In addition to taking second place shot put honors in the Essex County meet, Tom placed third in the state (Group IV) meet. Tony Russo copped a silver medal at the Newark Board of Education meet by taking a second place in the javelin event.

In the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Captain Tom Marrese and Bill Teller were reliable scorers. Bloomfield was well represented in the quarter mile run by Dick Abell. Larry Decker was a stand-out performer in the half mile run. Milers Bob White and Don Neubert excelled in their event as did Ralph Davis and Bob Herbert in the pole vault. Charlie Morrell and Dick Willette picked up their points in the high jump. Bill Teller and Tom Marrese also participated in the broad jump.

During the past few years interest in track at B.H.S. has grown. No doubt in a few seasons the Bengals will be one of the top threats on the cinders.

Indoor track made its appearance on the B.H.S. sporting scene this year. The team used the third floor hall after school as its track. Much credit for the formation of this squad must go to Coach Wilson, for it was through his efforts that the team was organized. The team did very well in meets at Madison Square Garden, racking up an impressive score.

The 1952 Bloomfield golf team won four meets, lost six and tied one. The team was led by Dan Finnegan who tied for top honors in the 18th New Jersey State Interscholastic A.A. tourney staged at the Jumping Brook course in Neptune. Players receiving varsity letters for participation on the team were Dan Finnegan, Stewart Flax, Edward Kukelski, Warren Johnson, and George Pawlikowski. Mr. Claxton coached their team which defeated Montclair, Millburn, and Nutley. The team tied with Verona and lost to Millburn, West Orange, Montclair, Verona, Belleville, and Caldwell.

BOWLING

In this, their third year of inter-school bowling, Bloomfield High copped the New Jersey Bowling League title. Bowling now seems well established as a popular minor sport at B.H.S. The team not only won the league title, but concluded the season undefeated. Mr. Norman Claxton coached the boys on to their impressive record. The big scorers were Larry Caruso, Tony Farranto, John Dear, Martin VanRiper, Bob Schuster, Pete Chmielewski and Bill VanderKooy.

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

Bloomfield High offers the student who does not have either sufficient skill or time to participate in varsity sports a wide variety of intramural activities. For the boys, there are golf and bowling in the fall, basketball in the winter, softball in the spring, and ping-pong all around the calendar. There is always a good response from B.H.S. students when it comes to forming an intramural team of some sort. Boys' activities are directed by Norman Claxton, assisted by the students. Such jobs as officiating and timing intramural contests are handled by the students.

Earlybird Action

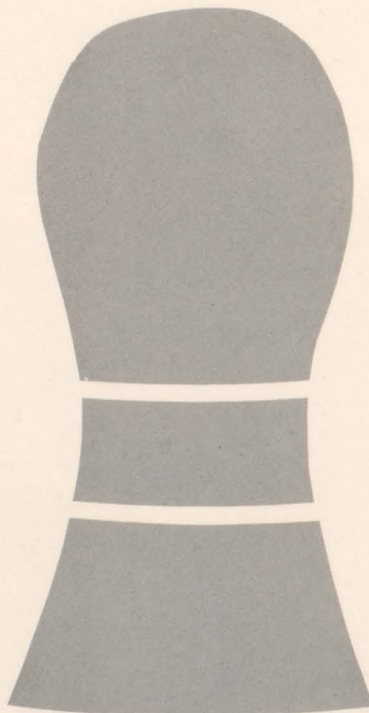

Badminton is a game which demands real concentration and quick reflex action. Following the volley ball season, both the boys and girls of B.H.S. take part in this ever popular sport. The games are held Wednesday afternoons in the girls' gym. Badminton is one of the two co-ed sports offered at Bloomfield High School.

BADMINTON

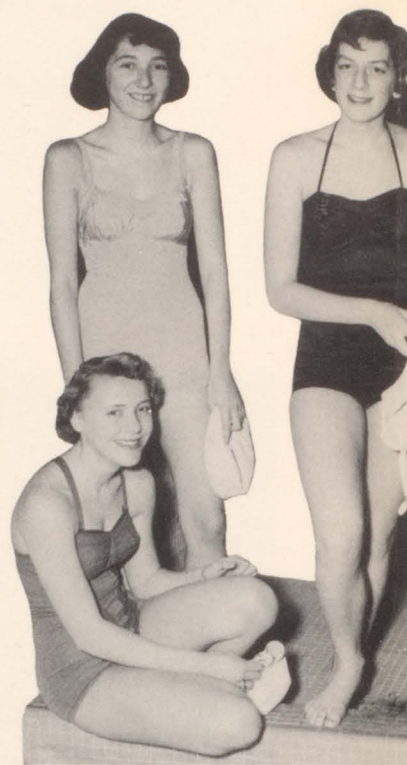

BASKETBALL

Basketball is perhaps the most popular intramural sport among the girls of B.H.S. Each year over one hundred participate enthusiastically. The classes first compete among themselves and then the winners battle it out in the play-offs. The Class of '53 really distinguished itself in this sport as it triumphed twice over the other teams in the tournament.

BOWLING

Every Thursday afternoon from December through March, the Bay Avenue bowling alleys were alive with activity, for here was the focal point for another girls' intramural sport — bowling. This year over sixty girls participated in this popular indoor sport. Ten teams were formed, and the competition was carried on as in an adult bowling league. A co-ed bowling tournament, held at the end of the season, served as a final highlight to this enjoyable activity.

SWIMMING

This year over two hundred girls from Bloomfield High threw away their water-wings with sighs of relief. Ten week courses for beginning, intermediate, and advanced swimmers were offered as a part of the swimming program at the Orange Y. Some of the girls, in a twelve week course, were able to earn the coveted junior and senior life saving awards.

PING-PONG

Ping-pong means skill and fast action on the part of the players and real entertainment and enjoyment for the spectators. This year the badminton and ping-pong games were carried on simultaneously in the girls' gym. Ping-pong is another sport that is open to both the boys and girls of Bloomfield High.

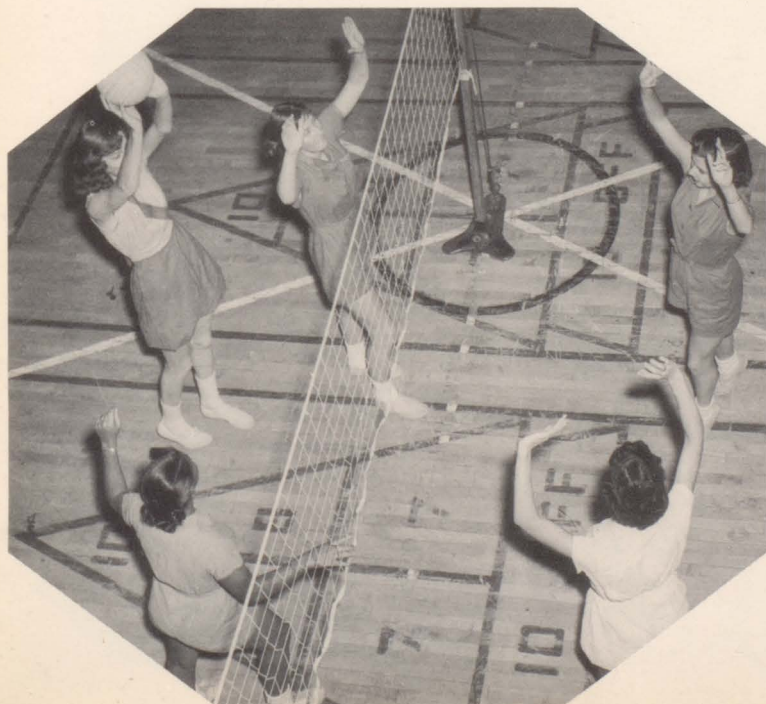

HOCKEY

Ground-sticks, ground-sticks, cr-r-rack! With the coming of fall and cool weather, these familiar sounds herald the arrival of the field hockey season. From the third week in September until Thanksgiving, this sport was the center of attraction for many Bloomfield High School girls. The games were played on Mondays at Brookdale Park and afforded much fun and excitement for all participating.

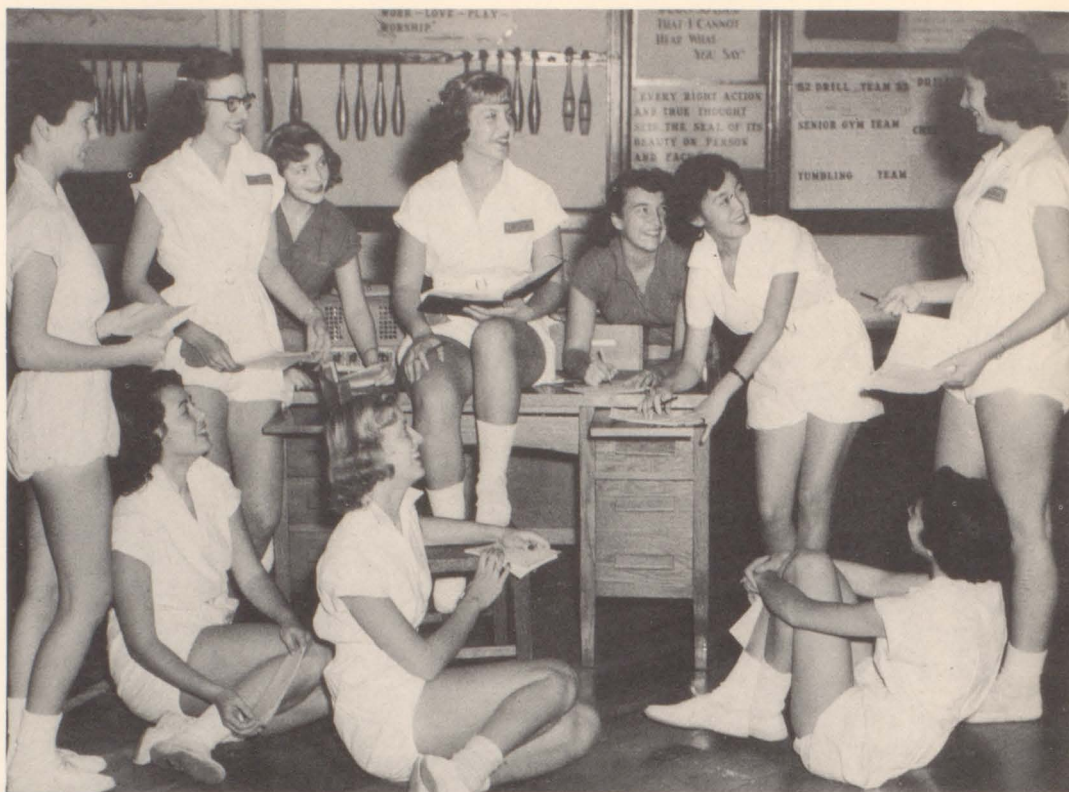

BASEBALL

Baseball is becoming ever more popular with the girls of B.H.S. This year many participated enthusiastically in a number of exciting contests, and, win or lose, each girl had a wonderful time.

The game of volley ball provides much fun and excitement for Mrs. Seely's gym classes. An inter-class tournament is carried on to determine the winning team of each class. Competition between the girls is very keen, since the winning teams are eligible to play the boys' volley ball teams. The fun really begins when the boys' and girls' teams meet.

VOLLEY BALL

LEADERS' CLUB

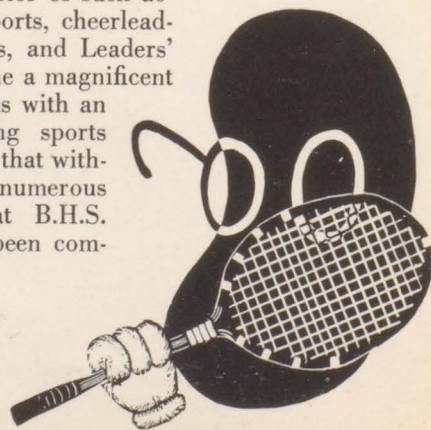

The Leaders' Club contributes greatly towards the success of all Mrs. Seely's gym classes. Its main purpose is to develop qualities of leadership in its members. The club discusses and corrects any problems that may arise in gym class, plans activities which interest the girls, and determines how, as a group, they may be of service to the school.

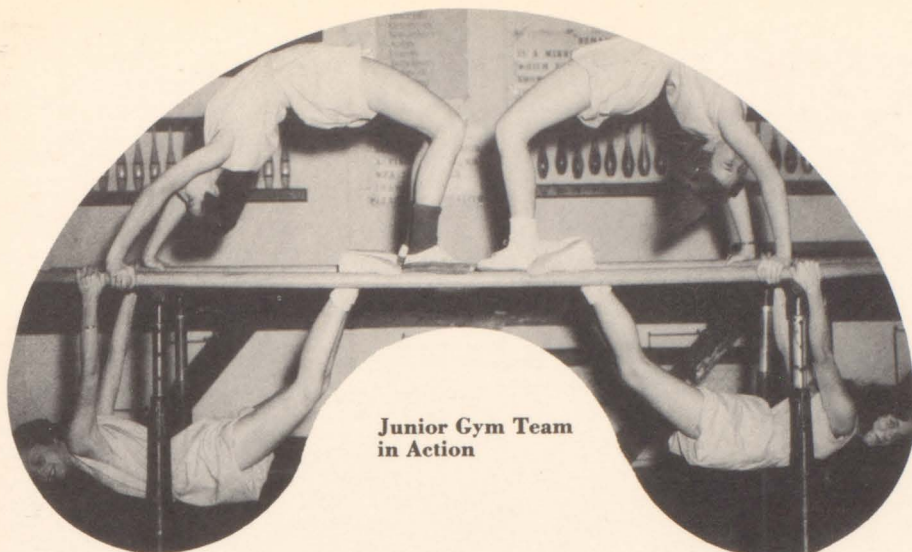

Mrs. M. Seely is the adviser of this club. The officers this year were E. Roberts, President; P. Prinos, Vice-President; T. Mabee, Secretary; E. Pennella, Treasurer.

MRS. SEELY

"Ma" Seely with her cheerful disposition has won a place in the hearts of every one of the girls with whom she has worked. As the director of such activities as intramural sports, cheerleaders, twirlers, flag wavers, and Leaders' Club, Mrs. Seely has done a magnificent job in providing her girls with an all-round and interesting sports program. The girls agree that without "Ma" Seely and her numerous activities their days at B.H.S. would surely not have been complete.

GYM TEAMS

The Senior Gym Team

"Back with your ropes! Run and jump to the bent arm hang! Now go into the reverse angel! Good work! Down!" These are the familiar commands that ring out in the gym every Tuesday and Thursday afternoon. Yes, the gym team girls, under the directions of Miss Russell, are hard at work perfecting their skills on ropes and parallel bars. Chin stands, chest stands, flying angels, reverse hangs, crabs, and scissors are just a few of the tricks the girls enjoy performing. The climax of all their efforts is reached in March when they present to their parents and friends an exhibition of all their abilities.

ARCHERY

Ready . . . aim . . . fire! This command only means that Bloomfield High School's archery team is at practice! Coached by Miss Russell, these female Robin Hoods have captured one archery championship after another. In the past few years, these girls have gained a widespread reputation for their unfailing marksmanship. In the spring of each year during the gym exhibition, they give evidence of the archery skill which has brought so much renown to Bloomfield High School.

DRILL TEAM

Eight years ago thirty-two senior girls marched off Foley Field and received a standing ovation from the many spectators for their intricate drill routine. Each year since then, a new group of girls has impressed many different audiences with their precision marching. This year, as before, a senior drill team, coached by Miss Russell, has been performing the march routine which has become the object of much praise and acclaim. Dressed in their saucy Scotch outfits, the drill team of '52-'53 marched before an appreciative audience at Madison Square Garden in February.

MISS RUSSELL

In Miss Russell, Bloomfield High is very fortunate in having a truly outstanding director of girls' gym activities. That she has been successful in her efforts is evidenced by the fame that her teams have brought to Bloomfield High. In her many years as a B.H.S. gym teacher, Miss Russell has worked patiently and diligently with the girls who have participated on the teams she has coached. The senior girls will always remember Miss Russell and the important part that she played in their high school days.

SWING SERENADERS

Dig that cool music! Know where it's coming from? The Swing Serenaders, popular young men about the school, are giving out with some of their enjoyable swing and sway rhythm. The Serenaders are an integral part of Bloomfield High's student functions. In the past year they have played at numerous school dances. We tapped our feet to the beat of such numbers as "Birth of the Blues" and "Swanee River," played in the annual band concert. This dance band traveled to Overbrook Hospital and local high schools. Mr. Hartman, as instrumental music director, is the adviser to the Serenaders. The student leader for this year is our trumpet player, Tom La Manna.

INSTRUMENTAL MUSIC

Add the talent and enthusiasm of our outstanding instrumentalists to the melodious strains of the string section and the sum is harmonious music from the B.H.S. orchestra. This organization divides the music honors with the vocal chorus at the Christmas program and operetta. Under the direction of Mr. Hartman, they multiply their efforts to make the Band Concert a success. By this process of simple math, we find that the orchestra cannot be subtracted from our list of memories.

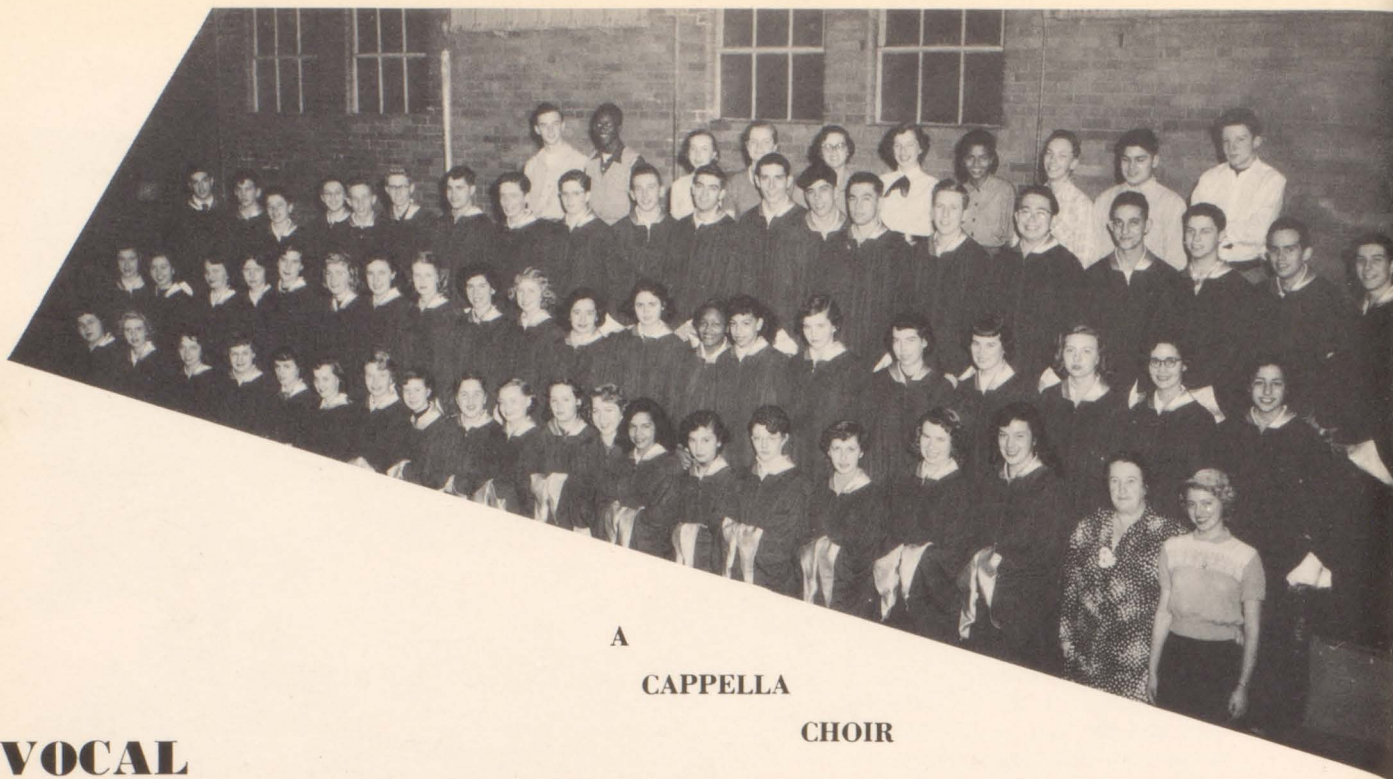

ORCHESTRA

Music from the concert band fills the air from the first autumn football game to the dignified march "Pomp and Circumstance" at commencement exercises. Between these major events, it plays at rallies, assembly programs, their annual band concert, and an exchange assembly with another high school. Mr. Hartman, the conductor of the band, acquaints the members with the compositions of master musicians, as well as with popular music. This organization is adept at converting itself into a marching band when necessary.

VOCAL MUSIC

Performing in the operetta, the spring concert and the Christmas program has kept our outstanding vocal music groups busy this year. The A Cappella Choir gave many concerts for the Home and School Association, various church organizations, service clubs, and school assemblies. They also sang "The Messiah" with the Civic Chorus at Christmas. The Boys,' Girls,' and Mixed Glee Clubs participated in school assemblies and in musical programs. These groups, under the direction of Miss E. Albinson, have rendered fine programs of entertainment.

GIRLS'

Boys who wish to develop gymnastic and tumbling skills find a rightful place in the Tumbling Club. It is a popular facet of the intramural sports agenda. Mr. N. Claxton helps the boys to work out on the more advanced apparatus in the gym. Co-Captains are L. Fornoff and R. Richardson.

We all have our ups and downs!

TUMBLING CLUB

TRACK CLUB

Track Club has provided a new type of activity in its first year of organization. Movies and well known athletes spotlight the program on an educational basis. Tremendous interest has been shown by students in attending special meetings. Milton Campbell, national school boy champion and record holder as well as second place winner in the Decathlon in the Olympics, was the outstanding speaker. Mr. Wilson, our cross country and track coach, is the adviser.

HI-Y

"Grab your bathing suit and come along!" You're sure to make a "splash" at one of the Hi-Y splash parties. Other features of this organization, under the direction of Mr. Benson, are formal inductions, the donation of food baskets to the needy, and the readiness of the members to contribute their services to B.H.S.

ITALIAN CLUB

To the strains of "O Sole Mio" we visit sunny Italy with the Italian Club. The main purpose of the club is to learn more about the customs and cultural background of the Italian people. The club, consisting of approximately sixty-nine students under the direction of Mr. Mangelli, enjoyed social dancing, movies, speakers, and two breakfast meetings during the year.

"Vive la France!" The purpose of Le Cercle Français, the French Club, is to keep alive interest in French and France at B.H.S. Le Cercle meets with its adviser, Mrs. A. Johnson, once a month in school for a business meeting. The members also hold a social meeting every month at someone's home. The officers of this club include P. Ohman, President; J. Heyman, Vice-President; P. Latterman, Secretary; M. Fleming, Treasurer.

SPANISH CLUB

STANDING: J. Daggit, Corresponding Secretary; S. Mayes, Recording Secretary; D. Bohr, Treasurer; Mrs. E. Douksza, Adviser.

As one of the largest and more active groups in the school, the Spanish Club has initiated a new language activity in the form of a language club Christmas party. This party helped to foster an interest in and among the language clubs. The breakfast meetings were a huge success for their featured entertainment in the form of Mexican dancing and music. Mrs. E. Douksza is the adviser.

LOS HIDALGOS

Los Hidalgos, a new honor society, was formed for Spanish students averaging an A grade. The meetings are carried on entirely in Spanish. The purpose is to enlarge the conversational vocabulary of its members. One of the activities this year was a field trip to the United Nations. Advisers are Miss M. Jenkins and Mrs. E. Douksza.

LEFT TO RIGHT — Mrs. E. Douksza, Adviser; K. McAdam, Treasurer; H. Morgan, President; S. Novik, Secretary; J. McLoughlin, Vice-President; Miss M. Jenkins, Adviser.

The oldest club of its kind in America, the Latin Club is a credit to Bloomfield High. In addition to learning about Roman life, the members participate in many service projects, such as donating to the Rome Scholarship Fund and providing a Thanksgiving dinner to a needy family. The social highlights include trips, a formal initiation of new members, and a party in May given to the Latin students in the junior high.

LATIN CLUB

GERMAN CLUB

A hot dog roast, a theater trip, and bazaars are traditional activities of the German Club. At the club meetings, the members learn old country songs and dances. Under the direction of Miss Zinn, the forty club members extend their good-will by contributing funds for aid to Korea, Germany, and local charities.

CAMERA CLUB

"Don't move! Say 'cheese'!" calls an enthusiastic Camera Club member from behind his array of flash bulbs and cameras. At the club meetings, the students have an opportunity to exchange ideas and discuss the techniques that produce good photography. Mr. Urband is the club adviser. Officers are Paul Schwartz, President; Lucille Spasione, Vice-President; Tom Moritz, Secretary-Treasurer.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

Scholarship . . . Leadership . . . Character . . . Service . . . These are the four qualities upon which every applicant for the Delta chapter of the National Honor Society is judged. Students of high academic standing, who also qualify in the other categories, may apply for membership in the latter part of their junior year. Club programs vary from college movies to organizing an induction assembly which takes place in the spring. Senior examination exemptions were the society's largest project this year.

BIOLOGY CLUB

"Get that thing away from me!" shrieks a feminine Biology Club member, as a prankster dangles a frog in her face. Besides the regular school meetings, trips to places of biological interest provide new experiences for the members. Mrs. H. Grabo is the club adviser. The officers are the following: J. Van Sprang, President; G. Cooper, Vice-President; A. Smith, Secretary; P. Gray, Treasurer.

Keeping an eye out for . . .

INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB

"Should the Voting Age Be Lowered to Eighteen?" This is only one of the many topics discussed by the International Relations Club at their regular meetings. Added activities included in the club's program were a trip to see the U.N. in action and many contributions to help the needy of the world. The club's basic aim is to promote world-mindedness and to train tomorrow's diplomats in the many problems they will have to face. The president of this group is Jack Nicholas.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

The Chemistry Club welcomes all students taking chemistry who are interested in advancing their knowledge of the use of chemistry in our scientific world. Committees are appointed to plan the program for each meeting. They have asked guest speakers, the club adviser Mrs. Becker, or club members to conduct the meeting and lecture on interesting experiments. Other activities that they have arranged for are slides and field trips. Business is exchanged for pleasure at the dance and social meetings.

MATH CLUB

Inventing trick problems and quizzes for the STUDENT PRINTS is the main project of this math loving group. They helped to make and collect mathematically designed Christmas tree ornaments. These mathematicians also tutor any students who needs extra help in math. At the end of the year a prize is awarded to the person who can solve the most trick problems.

MUSICAL MONDAY CLUB

Be sharp! (B#). This is the tenor of the meetings of the Musical Monday Club. This group has varied talents, ranging from twittering sopranos to ukulele strummers. At their meetings once a month the members further their appreciation of music by performing and by giving reports. Each May an open meeting is held for parents and teachers at which all the members take part.

KEY CLUB "To serve the school and the community" is the motto observed by every Key Club member. With Mr. Sutton as their adviser, the club members take an active part in school and community affairs. This organization is sponsored by the Bloomfield Kiwanis Club.

PRINTING SQUAD

The printing of attractive publicity posters, dance tickets, and programs is the task of the Printing Squad. The six skillful club members, advised by Mr. J. Douksza, give much thought and effort to creating new ideas for each assignment. A small fee is collected to finance a trip to a New York newspaper printing plant. The officers are D. Mondo, Editor; S. Montalbano, Assistant Editor; N. Hayward, Financial Editor; E. Jones, C. Garrett, A. Koch, Compositors.

PROJECTION CREW

"Lights out, please!" is the theme song of the Projection Crew. The members of this active organization, under the supervision of Mr. Grill, devote their spare time to showing school movies and operating the public address system in the auditorium. A Projection Crew member is always standing by to assist a teacher with the audio-visual aids program.

MECHANICS OF TRANSPORTATION CLUB

"Screw, bolt, pliers!" demands an avid member of the Mechanics of Transportation Club as he operates on an engine. All motors and no play, however, is not the club motto. With the club adviser, Mr. Benson, the members find time to take interesting field trips.

The Projectionists

"Soup's on!" That's the cry of the Chefs' Club. Equipped with spatulas, cook books, and chefs' hats, the members try their hand in the art of cooking. In addition, they participate in many service projects. All potential culinary experts find their forte in the Chefs' Club. Miss E. DeMeo is the club adviser.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Have you ever wondered where that appetizing smell comes from during activity period on the second and fourth Thursday of each month? The Home Economics Club with its twenty-five members is in progress under the direction of Mrs. Montgomery the adviser. The climax of the year's activities is the annual Mother-Daughter Banquet in the latter part of May. Additional activities of the club included gifts for the shut-ins at an old ladies' home at Christmas and serving at various lunches.

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT PROGRAM

JUNIOR ACHIEVEMENT

Junior Achievement is an organization established to train America's future business tycoons and to give them an opportunity for practical business experience through the operation of companies. These bosses of the future run their companies from management to production. Although a fairly new organization in B.H.S., Junior Achievement has grown larger each year.

F. T. A.

The Jerome Salsbury Club is the name given to B.H.S.'s Future Teachers of America Club. It is open to seniors of satisfactory citizenship and scholarship. Their goal is to learn about opportunities in the teaching field and to cultivate the necessary qualities. Beside their monthly meeting, the members have observed classroom procedure in local elementary schools with their adviser Mrs. Grill.

SENIOR GIRL RESERVES

JUNIOR GIRL RESERVES

The Junior and Senior Girl Reserves are two of the most rewarding clubs in the school. During the Community Chest Drive the girls did volunteer work at the Community House, and at Thanksgiving and Christmas they prepared baskets of food for needy families. Each Christmas and Easter the members outfit and buy toys for two little girls from the welfare agency in our town. In order to carry on this work, the girls have held an apron sale and a cake sale. The club has one business meeting a month and also a social meeting in the evening with their advisers Miss K. Dennison and Miss M. Jenkins.

SCHOOL STORE

A familiar and most welcomed sight to all B.H.S. students is Penny Pinchers' Paradise. Whether it be book covers or school sweaters that you are looking for, you are sure to find them in the school store. On hand to keep the store functioning so successfully are the members of the merchandising information classes and their adviser Miss Besley.

An organization designed to capture the interest of future secretaries is the Careers for Secretaries Club under the direction of Miss Freebern. During club meetings the members receive practice in shorthand and typing, as well as serve teachers by doing miscellaneous typing for them. Other activities include social meetings and the sponsoring of an assembly program.

49er CLUB

B.H.S. says, "Hale Mai Ai!" to a new-comer in our parade of clubs, the 49er Club. Visions of alluring Hawaii are brought to life by the club adviser Miss Masumoto as she shows slides and describes the customs of Hawaii. To complete the Hawaiian atmosphere during club meetings, the members have learned to dance the famous hula.

LIBRARY CLUB

Service is the main purpose of the Library Club. The thirty-five members help to carry on the necessary duties for the maintenance of the high school library. Its members take part in the meetings of the New Jersey School Library Council Association and also in the school's extra-curricular activities.

The ever-ready Junior Red Cross is always busy visiting the sick and helping the needy. At Christmas time packages were sent to servicemen. The girls helped to collect funds during drives for charitable organizations such as the polio drive. They also visited Overbrook and the Army hospital at Camp Kilmer.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Have a complaint? B.H.S.'s representative body, the Student Council, is the group to see. Besides keeping the students' desires in view, the organization provides for paid assemblies throughout the year. At meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month, the Council discusses student problems, conduct, and assembly programs. The individual committees of the Student Council, under the direction of student chairmen, plan the rallies, the canteen, and dances. The most important dance sponsored by this group is the Football Queen dance. For many days previous to this ball, the student body of Bloomfield High is busy voting for the queen. The winning beauty is announced and crowned at the dance.

The officers of the Student Council are elected at the Youth Week elections in the spring of each year. The newly-elected officers hold an organization meeting after which the president presents a plan for the Council to follow for the coming year. The main project of the Council this spring was to plan a variety show to raise money for next year's assemblies.

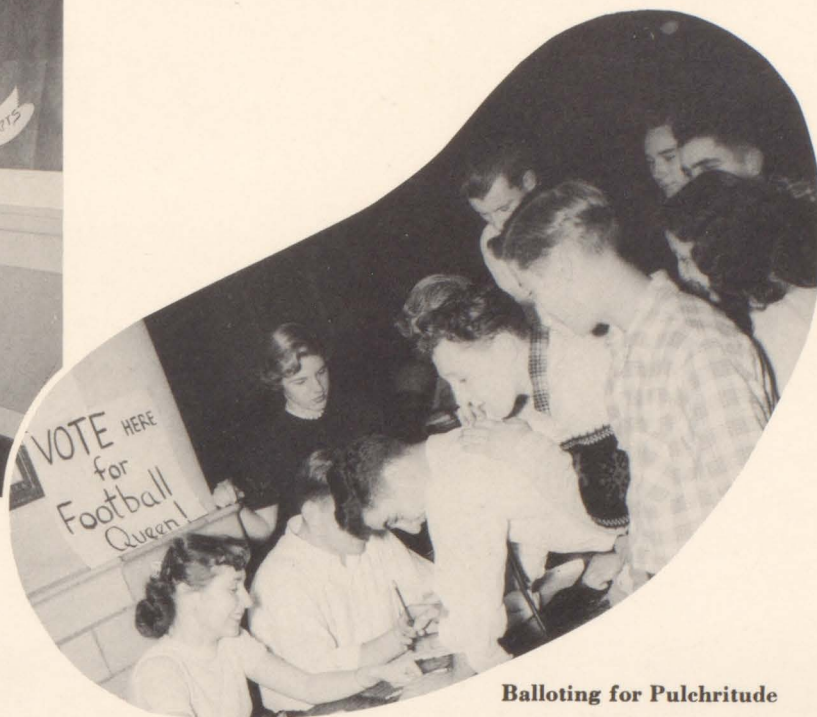

The officers of the Student Council this year were W. Rust, President; J. Glomb, Vice-President; S. Nelson, Recording Secretary; C. Xenitelis, Corresponding Secretary; T. LaManna, Treasurer. The advisers were Mr. A. Power and Mr. D. DeCamara.

STUDENT PRINTS

Bloomfield High School is indeed fortunate in having the miracle of the printed word in the form of the STUDENT PRINTS. The content of the paper is directly dependent upon the student editors. The editors have charge of a staff of writers in the areas of news, feature, and sports. The art, photography, business and typing staff are also important parts in the success of the paper.

The Columbia Scholastic Press Conference and various other conferences are attended by the editors each year. At these conferences they are given constructive criticism concerning their publication and they learn new ideas about the proper construction of student newspapers.

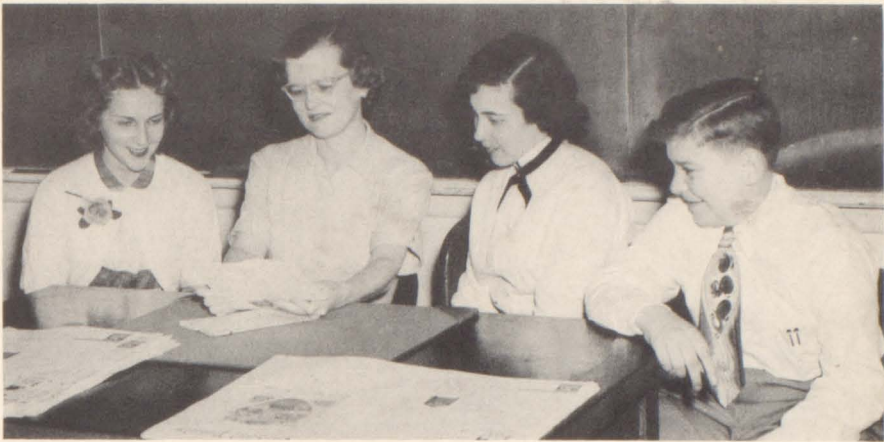

The STUDENT PRINTS has four faculty advisers who work with the editors to produce a successful paper. The editorial staff consists of an editor-in-chief, an associate editor, a feature editor, a sports editor (whose job it is to cover all the B.H.S. sports events), and art and photography editors. The PRINTS has an exchange editor who takes care of the exchange editions from many of the high schools in the surrounding towns.

The goal of the combined staffs of our school paper is to bring to its readers the best in literary achievement. This aim is met through the constant training of the large student staff. From the assignment making, page planning, and material editing to the sales of the STUDENT PRINTS, the many staff members take part in a very valuable part of B.H.S.'s extra-curricular activity program.

"He is rich who, knowing little, has a great Imagination; he is poor who, knowing much, has none." Without this great faculty, Imagination, there would be no tomorrow, for "the whole of today is part of the Imagination of yesterday, and tomorrow is the Imagination of today." (Arthur Mee). The time is approaching when each of us, as individuals, must assume the responsibilities of adulthood and leadership. For over twelve years we have been the recipients of knowledge and guidance; it is now our turn to give. We will erect the bridges . . . design the buildings . . . write the books . . . conduct the orchestras of tomorrow. May our Imagination enable us to remember the good times of the past . . . to turn our castles-in-air into the realities of the future.

To the Class of '53:

Here it is! MEMORIES '53--the result of nearly five hundred hours of planning, working, learning, and laughing! The purpose of our efforts has been to produce a book which will help you to recall our three-year stay at B. H. S., memory by memory. If, as you turn this last page, you feel slightly sad . . . slightly reminiscent . . . slightly happy, we have produced successfully--MEMORIES '53.

FINISHED! Thanks to you, the guys and gals of the staff of MEMORIES '53, we can finally lay down our pencils, stack up our paint brushes, cover our typewriters and say "PHEW!" Our job is done. We have tried to do it well.

The seven terrific editors have completed their enormous task of planning and supervising most of the work involved in the production of a successful yearbook. . . .

No more writing . . . rewriting . . . drawing . . . typing . . . filing for the individual staffs whose fine cooperation made our work much easier. . . .

The whole staff joins in one big "THANK YOU!" for our three wonderful advisers--Miss Brummerstedt, Miss Fischer, and Mr. Willaver. Their sense of humor, friendly criticism, and willingness to help have pulled us through many a trying time.

To the fifty-five staff members of MEMORIES '53 I say, "Thanks for a job well done!"

Sincerely,

James Dewsnap
